A GROCER'S TRICK.

This happened long ago-in the early days of Minneapolis-and is related to show that even in those days the grocer was up to snuff. A certain well-known individual, now a resident of St. Cloud, was dealing in groceries in Minneapolis then. and told the story himself the other day, as follows :

"I happened to strike four chests of tea, which I bought at a bargain -25 a pound. These four chests of tea, were all the same quality and brand, but were all I had, and of course as my customers expected a variety of prices, I accommodated them. I turned the tell-tale side of the chests toward the wall, and marked the tea to suit the customers. Deacen ----, still a resident of the city, came in one day after some tea and wanted a good article. I gave him a sample from each of the four chests to take home and try, stating their respective prices as 35, 50, 75 cents and $1 a peund. Well, after testing the samples he returned and rendered his decision as follows:

"That 35-cent tea is a very fair article for the price; the 50-cent tea is much better; the 75-cent tea is excellent, and the dollar tea is a very superior article, I can assure von. But I can't quite go that figure. Let me have 10 pounds of the 75-cent tea."

He was accommodated. How grocers have changed since then!

It is a mistake to suppose that the Princess of Wales is the leader of fashion in London. Were she so, crinolettes, high shoulders, and inordinately high heels would never have been seen, nor loud combinations of color and elaborate head gear. The Princess is celebrated for being always dressed in quiet and perfect taste. She goes in for a rather severe style of tailor made garments just now. Of course she is imitated. If she appears in a gray or pink hat, many are the gray and pink heads to be seen; but for one who will follow the Princess's quiet, ladylike style, twenty will follow the lead of some eccentric, original, or celebrated actress.

Christian charity is a calm, wise thing. It will sometimes appear to Attention, ladies! If you want fresh the superficial observer a very hard
